

Croydon Camera Club Newsletter – 27 January 2020

Chairman's Viewpoint

There is some good news to start this week's newsletter. We took part in the SLF Plate Round for Colour Prints and won. The final is at Carshalton on 24 February. Congratulations to all those who had prints included in our panel. There is a particular mention to Jack Bates and David Beard who both scored maximum 10 points, with Jack also winning a certificate for "Stone Vase". Well done, both.

Congratulations also go to Ros Conti, the winner of last week's mobile phone image competition. I would also like to extend a special thanks to Graham Land for his judging.

The good news continues as we have a new member. Welcome to Peter Handy.

As stated last week, the club is seeking images for inclusion in the article Amateur Photographer magazine is running about us in April. We are using PhotoEntry for submissions where the process is a bit different than normal as we require full size shots. Further details are available on the forum.

Club Matters

SLF Inter Club Plate Competition – 29 January 2020

At this week's meeting we welcome representatives from Aperture Woolwich, Beckenham, Carshalton and South London clubs to the Monochrome Prints and PDI Plate competitions we are hosting on behalf of the SLF. Croydon will be competing in the PDIs. While I do not wish to make predictions, we have a good set of images and lost out on a place in the semi-finals by the narrowest of margins. Come along to give your support and see how we fare.

The judge will be Clive Tanner FRPS MPAGB APAGB.

Master Trophy Competition – 5 February 2020

Our annual competition when we are looking for three images which work both on their own and when shown together in a panel. There will be separate contests for prints and DPI. Entries via PhotoEntry as usual. Remember that as well as the images, your panel will need a title.

The judge will be Jay Charnock FRPS.
