

Croydon Camera Club Newsletter – 9 February 2020

Chairman's Viewpoint

Congratulations to Iggy Tavares and Frank Edwards respectively who won the Print and DPI Master competitions last week, with both winning panels achieving a maximum score of 50 marks.

Tickets at £5 each are now on sale from David Beard for the Wratten Lecture by Mark Bauer who is giving a talk entitled "From Dawn to Dusk – Light in Landscape Photography". This is an occasion when we invite members of the public and encourage our members to bring friends and family for what will be a special occasion. The more so this year, since the lecture is part of our celebrations making our club's 130th anniversary in March.

For further information about Mark and the lecture, see the post on our club's forum:

Club Matters

Portrait Photography – 12 February 2020

Andrew Dunsmore will be making a welcome return to our club this week to give us a practical session on taking portraits, with an emphasis on how to put models at ease to get the best results. In three weeks' time, on 5 March, we will have the opportunity to put the lessons learned to good use when models Caroline and Holly will visit the club for a practical evening.

There will be an opportunity to take your own photos, so bring your camera if you wish to participate.

Nature Competition for the David Eaves Trophy – 19 February 2020

This is our annual competition to find the best set of images of the natural world. The winner will be the photographer whose images achieve the highest total score overall. Three images are required, which must be new work and can be prints, DPI or a combination. Entry is via PhotoEntry as usual, with a closing date of midnight on Monday 17 February.

The judge will be Mick White LRPS.

There is a definition of definition of nature photography on the club's website.
